

The Pittsburgh Camerata: Sustained by Our Song

the PITTSBURGH CAMERATA

Mark A. Anderson, Artistic Director

2021-2022 SEASON

WHO WE ARE

The Pittsburgh Camerata is a professional vocal ensemble who has been presenting choral concerts in Pittsburgh since 1974.

WHAT WE DO

We sing music you won't hear performed anywhere else in Pittsburgh. Some is from the Renaissance and Baroque periods. Some is 20th or 21st century music. The remainder might be from any era. All of this music is intended to be sung by a small choir in an intimate space.

COVID-19

Before each in-person concert, we will announce any policies we put into place regarding attendance restrictions and requirements due to Covid-19. Our policies will reflect the requirements of the venue, government agencies and the Pittsburgh Camerata Board of Directors.

A MESSAGE FROM ARTISTIC DIRECTOR
MARK ANDERSON

Dear Faithful and Greatly Appreciated Supporters of the Camerata,

We are more excited than ever about sharing our

2021-2022 season with you. Although we don't know how the fall will progress in terms of restrictions, we are hopeful that our first in-person concert will be a joyous reunion between our singers and you, our audience.

In addition to our traditional line-up of concerts, our programs include two concerts with small orchestral ensembles.

We have included one virtual-only concert, to be aired in February. The feedback we received from many this past year indicated a strong interest in having at least one virtual concert, especially in the dark, cold days of winter. This particular concert, entitled We Remember..., will include poetry as well as choral music and solos. Our hope is that you will be able to view it a number of times, listening for different things each time.

The past year and a half has presented us with many challenges as choral singers. We scurried to do a very different kind of season and learned a great deal as we went along. Gail Luley also spent an untold amount of time creating and making available many recordings of past performances. Through all of this, your encouragement, support, and feedback has been deeply appreciated. Indeed, we are profoundly grateful for what each of you has done, and continue to do, to keep the Camerata alive and well.

Welcome to the 2021-2022 season!

Warmly,
Mark Anderson, Artistic Director
The Pittsburgh Camerata
